MEMORANDUM FOR: Assistant Deputy Director (Support)

SUBJECT:

[REDACTED] Travel Order FE-776-56

25X1A9a

1. You are requested to approve the shipment by subject of household and personal effects, not to exceed 16,000 lbs., from [REDACTED] to Washington, D. C., under authority of Regulation [REDACTED] paragraph 9.a.

2. Subject has been in the field continuously as an employee of the United States Government for ten years. He has been with this Agency for the last four years. He is one of a total of perhaps five persons in the FE area caught abroad with a weight of household effects in excess of that now authorized for shipment by persons occupying furnished Government quarters.

3. In the rewrite of the travel regulations, a savings clause is being inserted for the purpose of avoiding undue personal hardship and financial loss to persons in subject's circumstances. The Deputy Director (Support) has approved such a clause in principle. Since the new regulations have not yet been published, your approval of this case is requested through signature on the travel order. This would be identical with the practice followed in the case of [REDACTED] (travel order FE-814-56, signed by you on 1 March 1956).
